

STANDARD BIOTOOLS INC.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE PRINCIPLES

(as amended and restated on February 2, 2021)

These principles have been adopted by the Board of Directors (the “Board”) of Standard BioTools Inc. (the “Company”) for the purpose of establishing the corporate governance policies pursuant to which the Board intends to conduct its oversight of the business of the Company in accordance with its fiduciary responsibilities.

1. Role of the Board

The role of the Board at the Company is to oversee the performance of the chief executive officer (the “CEO”) and other senior management and to assure that the best interests of stockholders are being served. To satisfy this responsibility, the directors are expected to take a proactive approach to their duties and function as active monitors of corporate management. Accordingly, directors provide oversight in the formulation of the long-term strategic, financial and organizational goals of the Company and of the plans designed to achieve those goals. In addition, the Board reviews and approves standards and policies to ensure that the Company is committed to achieving its objectives through the maintenance of the highest standards of responsible conduct and ethics and to assure that management carries out their day-to-day operational duties in a competent and ethical manner.

The day-to-day business of the Company is carried out by its employees, managers and officers, under the direction of the CEO and the oversight of the Board, to enhance the long-term value of the Company for the benefit of stockholders. The Board and management also recognize that creating long-term enterprise value is advanced by considering the interests and concerns of other stakeholders, including the Company’s employees, customers, creditors and suppliers as well as the community generally.

The Board understands that effective directors act on an informed basis after thorough inquiry and careful review, appropriate in scope to the magnitude of the matter being considered. The directors know their position requires them to ask probing questions of management and outside advisors. The directors also rely on the advice, reports and opinions of management, counsel and expert advisors. In doing so, the Board evaluates the qualifications of those it relies upon for information and advice and also looks to the processes used by managers and advisors in reaching their recommendations. In addition, the Board has the authority to hire outside advisors at the Company’s expense if deemed appropriate.

2. Selection of Chair and CEO

The Board shall fill the chairperson ("Chair") and CEO positions based upon the Board's view of what is in the best interests of the Company at any point in time. Although the current Chair is a non-employee director, the Board has not adopted any policy requiring or precluding separation of the Chair and CEO positions or requiring allocation of the Chair position to a non-employee director.

3. Lead Independent Director

In order to facilitate communication between management and the outside directors, the Board may elect a "Lead Independent Director," who will have the responsibility to schedule and prepare agendas for meetings of outside directors. The Lead Independent Director, if applicable, will communicate with the CEO/Chair, disseminate information to the rest of the Board in a timely manner and raise issues with management on behalf of the outside directors when appropriate. All members of the Board are encouraged to communicate with the CEO/Chair. Because the current Chair is a non-employee director, he shall also serve as the Lead Independent Director.

4. Committees

The Board has three standing committees: the Audit Committee, the Compensation Committee, and the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee ("Governance Committee"). The Board will continue to delegate substantial responsibilities to each committee and should appoint one member of each committee as committee chair. Each committee should consist solely of independent directors, as defined by the rules of the Nasdaq Stock Market ("Nasdaq Rules"), and, in the case of the Audit Committee, as defined by the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC Rules"). The members of each committee shall also meet the other membership criteria specified in the respective charter for such committee. New committees may be formed as determined by the Board.

5. Assignment and Rotation of Committee Members

Committees should be appointed (or re-appointed), and the chair of each committee designated, by the full Board, upon recommendation by the Governance Committee, annually. Rotation of committee members and chairs is encouraged and the Governance Committee should review committee composition each year with a view toward balancing the benefits derived from the diversity of experience and viewpoints of the various directors; however, it is also the Board's belief that continuity of experience in the specific functions of these committees provides a significant benefit to the stockholders and to management. Each independent director should serve on at least one standing committee and new directors generally will be considered for committee chair appointments following approximately one year's service on the Board.

6. Frequency and Length of Committee Meetings

Each committee chair, in consultation with committee members, will determine the frequency and length of meetings of his or her committee, considering all relevant factors such as the committee's mandate, nature of current committee business to be discussed and the like. Moreover, the committee chair should feel free to call additional committee meetings at times other than the scheduled meetings of the full Board.

7. Committee Charters and Agendas

Each committee shall have its own charter, which will set forth the purpose, membership requirements, authority and responsibilities of the committee. Annually, the chair of each committee should review the existing committee charter and determine, in consultation with the rest of the committee, whether any amendments are required. Committee charters should be within the scope of authority granted by the Board and should be approved by the Board. The chair of the committee, in consultation with appropriate members of management and staff, should develop the overall annual agenda to the extent it can be foreseen. In addition, each committee chair should prepare an agenda prior to each committee meeting and should consult with appropriate members of management for additional items which should be included in the agenda. Any committee of the Board is authorized to engage its own outside advisors at the Company's expense, including legal counsel or other consultants, as required, provided that the committee shall promptly advise the full Board of such engagement.

8. Code of Conduct, Conflicts of Interests, Related Person Transactions and Complaints Process

The Governance Committee shall review and approve the Company's Code of Ethics and Conduct (the "Code"), which is applicable to directors, officers and employees; consider questions of possible conflicts of interest of Board members and corporate officers; review actual and potential conflicts of interest (including corporate opportunities) of Board members and corporate officers; and approve or prohibit any involvement of such persons in matters that may involve a conflict of interest or corporate opportunity. Directors may be asked from time to time to leave a Board meeting when the Board is considering a transaction in which the director (or another organization in which the director is a director or officer) has a financial or other interest.

The Audit Committee shall review and approve in advance any proposed related person transactions in compliance with the Company's Related Persons Transactions Policy and the Nasdaq Rules, and must present material related person transactions to the full Board for approval; review the Code and monitor the compliance of the Company's senior financial personnel with the Code; and review and approve the Company's Complaint Procedures for Accounting and Auditing Matters.

9. Board Meetings and Agenda Items

The Board shall have no fewer than four (4) regularly scheduled meetings each year at which it reviews and discusses leadership continuity, management development, management reports on the performance of the Company, its plans and prospects, as well as more immediate issues facing the Company. The Chair (in consultation with the CEO if not the same person) will set the agenda for each Board meeting. Each Board member is free to suggest inclusion of items on the agenda. The Board will review the Company's long-term strategic plans during at least one Board meeting per year.

10. Board Presentations and Discussions

As a general rule, preparation material on specific subjects should be sent to the Board members in advance so that the Board meeting time may be conserved and discussion time focused on questions that the Board has about the material. On those occasions when the subject matter is too sensitive to be distributed, the subject will have to be introduced at the meeting. Directors are expected to prepare for, attend, and actively participate in all Board and applicable committee meetings. The Company encourages, but does not require, directors to attend the annual meeting of stockholders.

11. Regular Attendance of Non-Directors at Board Meetings

It is anticipated that certain members of management (e.g., the CFO, General Counsel, and such other members of the executive staff as the CEO may from time to time designate) and representatives of the Company's outside counsel will attend Board meetings on a regular basis. Other members of management and staff will attend meetings and present reports from time to time. Specifically, the Board encourages management to schedule managers to be present at Board meetings who can provide additional insight into the items being discussed because of personal involvement in these areas. It is understood that Company personnel and others attending Board meetings may be asked to leave the meeting in order for the Board to meet in executive session.

12. Meetings of Independent Directors and with Outside Auditors

It is the policy of the Board to have separate meeting times for independent directors without management. Such meetings should be held as a part of every scheduled Board meeting and at such other times as requested by an independent director. In addition, the Audit Committee should meet periodically with the Company's outside auditors without management present at such times as it deems appropriate.

13. Board Access to Management

Board members should have full access to members of management, either as a group or individually, and to Company information that they believe is necessary to fulfill their obligations as Board members. The directors should use their judgment to ensure that any such contact or communication is not disruptive to the business operations of the Company.

14. Board Compensation

The Governance Committee should conduct an annual review of non-employee director compensation. This review will include input from the Company's Human Resources department in order to evaluate non-employee director compensation compared to other companies of like size in the industry. Any change in Board compensation should be approved by the full Board. Directors should hold equity ownership positions in the Company in accordance with stock ownership guidelines established by the Board.

15. Size of the Board

The size of the Board is determined by the Board in accordance with the Company's Bylaws. The size of the Board may vary based upon the size of the business and the availability of qualified candidates. Board size should facilitate active interaction and participation by all Board members. The Board will review from time to time the appropriateness of its size.

16. Composition of Board

The Board believes that as a matter of policy there should be a majority of independent directors on the Board. Within that policy, the mix of Board members should provide a range of expertise and perspective in areas relevant to the Company's business.

17. Board Definition of "Independence" for Directors

A director shall be considered "independent" for purposes of serving on the Board if he or she meets the criteria for independence established by the Nasdaq Rules. A director shall be considered "independent" for purposes of serving on a Board committee based on the definition of independence used in that committee's charter, which shall conform to any requirements established for such a committee by the Nasdaq Rules and any applicable SEC Rules.

18. Board Membership Criteria and Selection

The Governance Committee should review on an annual basis, in the context of recommending a slate of directors for stockholder approval, the composition of the Board, including issues of character, judgment, diversity, age, expertise, corporate experience, length of service, independence, other commitments, and the like. Selection of new directors requires recommendation of a candidate by the Governance Committee to the full Board, which has responsibility for naming new members in the event of a vacancy or expansion of the Board between annual meetings of stockholders.

19. Extending the Invitation to Join the Board to a New Director

An invitation to join the Board should be extended by the Chair, on behalf of the entire Board.

20. Notifying a Director of Non-Inclusion on a Proposed Slate of Directors

Any proposal to decrease the size of the Board, or to substitute a new director for an existing director, should be made first by the Governance Committee, then approved by the full Board. After receipt of a recommendation from the Governance Committee, the Chair should notify the director of such recommendation prior to the meeting of the Board at which the slate of nominees is proposed to be approved.

21. Assessing the Board's Performance

The Chair and the Governance Committee should annually review the Board's performance during the prior year. This assessment should focus on areas in which the Board or management believes contributions can be made going forward to increase the effectiveness of the Board. As part of this process, the Governance Committee will be responsible for overseeing a self-evaluation by the Board and each committee of the Board and for establishing the criteria and process for the self-evaluation, including considering and discussing the results of the evaluation.

22. Term Limits

The Board believes that directors should not have "unlimited tenure" and, in general, a Board tenure of nine to ten years is encouraged. Prior to each annual meeting of stockholders, the Governance Committee will consider whether each director eligible for reelection should stand for reelection.

23. Director Orientation and Continuing Education

The Governance Committee will work with the CEO to develop a formal orientation process to assist new directors in understanding the Company's business and to provide an introduction to the Company's senior management. Further, the Company encourages directors to participate in continuing education programs focused on the Company's business and industry, committee roles and responsibilities, and legal and ethical responsibilities of board members.

24. Other Engagements

Prior to accepting a position to serve on any board of directors or other governing body of a for-profit corporation, for-profit organization, or other for-profit entity, or accepting a consulting engagement or employment with any such entity, a director must notify the CEO, the Chair, the Governance Committee chair, and the Company's Compliance Officer. Such individuals will evaluate the relationship for a potential conflict of interest and to confirm that the director continues to have the time available to perform his or her duties to the Company. The notification must be in writing (email is acceptable) and provide information sufficient for the above assessment, including, without limitation, the business of such entity, the time commitment associated with the proposed additional engagement, and any relationships between such entity and its affiliates and Standard BioTools and its affiliates, as well as any other information requested by the evaluation group specified above. Unless an exception is specifically approved by such group, directors may not accept additional board positions that would cause them to be considered “overboarded” by Institutional Shareowner Services or Glass Lewis, and in no event should a director sit on more than four (4) public-company boards (including the Board) at the same time.

25. Formal Evaluation and Compensation of the CEO and Other Executive Officers

The formal evaluation of the CEO and the other executive officers should be made in the context of annual compensation review by the Compensation Committee, with appropriate input from other Board members, and should be communicated to the CEO by the chair of the Compensation Committee. The evaluation should be based on objective criteria, including performance of the business and accomplishment of long-term strategic objectives in accordance with the principles established by the Compensation Committee. The CEO and other executive officers should hold equity ownership positions in the Company in accordance with stock ownership guidelines established by the Board.

26. Succession Planning and Management Development

With the assistance of the Governance Committee, the full Board is primarily responsible for CEO succession planning. In addition, the Board shall monitor management’s succession plans for other key executives with the assistance of the Compensation Committee. Succession planning can be critical in the event the CEO or other key executives should cease to serve for any reason, including resignation or unexpected disability.

The Board believes that establishment of a strong management team is the best way to prepare for an unanticipated executive departure. In addition to its responsibilities related to executive succession planning, the Board shall confer with the CEO to encourage management’s employee development programs.

27. Enterprise Risk Assessment and Management

The Board shall oversee management’s processes for identifying, monitoring, and addressing enterprise risks, and shall evaluate and discuss with management its assessments of matters relating to enterprise risks, including the Company’s risk management and control procedures.

28. Board Interaction with Investors, the Press, Customers, etc.

The Board believes that management speaks for the Company. Individual Board members may, from time to time, meet or otherwise communicate with various constituencies that are involved with the Company, but it is expected that

Board members would do this with knowledge of management and, in most instances, only at the request of management.

29. Formulation of Strategy

The Board should provide oversight to management in formulating corporate strategy.

30. Periodic Review of Guidelines

The Governance Committee and the Board should review these guidelines no less frequently than annually.
